

How MedPro Disposal helped Wheeling Health Right reduce medical waste disposal costs.

Wheeling Health Right is a comprehensive primary care clinic located in Charleston, West Virginia. Their mission is to provide basic primary care to individuals unable to obtain such care through current health programs.

The practice learned they had a compounding problem, which prompted them to look for an affordable partner to help manage their medical waste disposal costs.

“Discovering I could pay half of my current bill and receive quality service was the true selling point. This is huge for the clinic because funding streams continue to tighten up and decrease.”

About Wheeling Health Right

Wheeling Health Right was established in 1985. The “Health Right” concept aims at helping those who are unable to qualify for Medicaid or unable to afford current health programs.

Practice Challenges

The company had a compounding problem after the Affordable Care Act (ACA) took effect. They needed a solution to reduce per-patient costs and reduce medical waste disposal costs.

Results After Switching to MedPro Disposal

Wheeling Health Right saw significant savings in their medical waste disposal costs alone. That helped them maintain their $90-per-patient costs. They were so happy with their partnership they took advantage of MedPro Disposal’s OSHA and HIPAA compliance training.
